

Adaptive, Identity-Centric Security for Hybrid IT

AppGate SDP secures the network with a Software-Defined Perimeter – a network security model that dynamically creates one-to-one network connections between the user and the resources they access. Everything else is invisible including the system itself.

